Supply list on back

Join our resident painter and Ringling graduate Nat Borges in this new, full day watercolor workshop. Together, you'll learn to combine elegant human figures with beautiful botanicals to create unique works that have a voice all their own. Whether you are a portrait painter or flower expert, expressive or precise, this class will help you gain the knowledge and confidence necessary to turn blank white paper into colorful pieces of art.

Flowers+Figures Supply List

- ◆ A quarter sheet of 140 lb watercolor paper- Arches cold press, Fluid 100 cold press, or Shizen cold press work nicely.
- ◆ An assortment of brushes- Primarily rounds or mops, though a large flat wash brush is useful. Try to bring a variety of size
- ◆ A palette- Whatever you feel comfortable with, though I recommend one with a lot of mixing space
- ◆ Watercolor paints– Please bring at minimum the three primary colors– a red, a yellow, and a blue- either student or professional quality. Pan sets such as the Sakura Koi or Winsor Cotman sets are acceptable, especially for beginners. Feel free to bring other useful colors you might have.
- ◆ White gouache or opaque white watercolor
- ◆ A sketching pencil, whatever softness is most comfortable
- ◆ Soft eraser
- ◆ Water container
- ◆ A board to put your paper on- This can be gator board, a drawing board, masonite, whatever you have that will be a sturdy surface for your paper.
- ◆ Artist clips or tape to hold your paper to the board

All supplies can be purchased at Art&Frame at discount prices.
