

The Now: A Class in Advanced Concepts in Visual Art

Kevin Costello

6 weeks, 2 sessions available

All Media

- Wed, November 14 - December 19, 2012
1:00pm-4:00pm
Members $160 / Non-members $190

This class is for individuals who want to explore the “why” of art as well as the “how” of visual techniques. The relationship between cultural literacy and art is a constant: this class, of idea driven two and three dimensional projects underscores the relationship between contemporary art and the broader cultural climate in which we live. The outcome of this workshop is to enrich a participant's understanding of the philosophy of art and the new studio technology supporting it. Students will draw, paint, construct and more, in this thought-provoking class for the mind and the hand. All skill levels welcome.

About the Artist:

An artist and lecturer, KEVIN COSTELLO is well-recognized on the west coast of Florida for his 6 year role as Art Correspondent for the Sarasota Herald Tribune and Contributing Writer for Arts and Culture Magazine. Currently, Mr. Costello is an instructor in Landscape Painting, Figure and Conceptual Drawing at the Ringling College of Art and Design Continuing Studies Department and Lecturer in Contemporary Art History in the Elderhostel Program at Stetson University. He is also on the faculty of the Pierian Spring Academy and the Adult and Community Enrichment Department of Sarasota County Technical Institute, Sarasota County School Board. www.kevincostelloart.com

For more information contact Elizabeth Hillmann at elizabeth@artsarasota.org
Visit www.artsarasota.org or call Art Center Sarasota at 941-365-2032